"The first time Rhonda Sciortino spoke for our Global Center for Women and Justice, we were expecting an accomplished business woman who would challenge us to be successful like she was. Instead, we met an honest leader who challenged our minds, touched our hearts and called us to action. The event was our annual Women in Leadership Lecture Series. Rhonda pulled us into her story with the sound of ripping paper as she described the loss of a child victimized by abandonment and abuse. She earned our support as we leaned forward to join her struggle to overcome; and we sat up when she called us to join her mission to make a difference for other children right in our own community! Rhonda will bring together head and heart and people will leave prepared to act!"
—Dr. Sandra Morgan, Vanguard University Global Center For Women And Justice

"Rhonda's message of determination in overcoming life's difficulties motivated us to share an expectation to succeed with the children and youth in our care."
—Charles Flynn, President—Association of Christian Childcare Administrators, an advocacy association for Christian child welfare professionals

"Thank you so much for helping make the past two events a HUGE success for Compass. It was amazing how you connected with the audience...you really inspired them to do great things in spite of the difficulties they have faced. It was so great to have you come because you understand what we do and you are such a pleasure to work with!"
—Ryan B. Stanton, President and CEO, Compass
